Projects

!~ATH — Esoteric programming language

<https://github.com/robinpie/ath>

- Designing and developing a custom esoteric programming language from scratch
- Building a lexer, parser, interpreters to handle unique language syntax and semantics
- Wrote portable cross-platform interpreters in both pure Python and JavaScript

Homelab networking

- Configured a segmented home network using VLANs on a managed switch with pfSense
- Used a Wazuh SIEM instance to gather logs and identify anomalous traffic
- Wrote Python scripts and AI tools to parse custom log sources not natively supported by Wazuh's agent
- Repurposed readily available commodity hardware to implement the above

Xcaca — X server in ASCII art

<https://github.com/robinpie/xcaca>

- Implementing an X Window System server that renders graphical output as ASCII art
- Demonstrates low-level systems programming and creative problem-solving
- Demonstrates ability to maintain and extend existing codebases to do innovative things

Modern hardcopy terminal using receipt printer

- Repurposing a receipt printer to use as a teletype-style hardcopy terminal
 - Uses Bash scripting and knowledge of Linux architecture
 - Demonstrates ability to work with hardware and familiarity with classical Linux/Unix

Open-source community involvement

Arch User Repository

- Maintainer for several packages (dinky, chessament-git, atlantik-git, hash-o-matic-git, localquens, kdominate-git)

GitHub, GitLab

- Multiple pull requests merged into others' projects

Work experience

Ballot initiative signature gathering

Missouri Workers Center

Nov 2023 – Apr 2024

- Circulated petitions for a ballot measure to appear on the November 2024 election ballot
- Engaged with community members to explain ballot initiatives and gather support
- Managed signature verification processes and met collection targets on a hard deadline
